We guarantee you've seen nothing like it, and you'll have a great time! It doesn't matter if it is a garment that we do not normally stock.

THE DISAPPEARING LOCK

We did it again!! We found an item that we thought was exceptional and we sold them out as quickly as we advertised them. It is the bicycle lock of the 90's. This radical cable is composed of many strands of stainless steel cords that have been wound and twisted together and then wrapped in a case hardened vertebrae-like steel casing. This lock is nearly indestructible using conventional lock breaking tools.

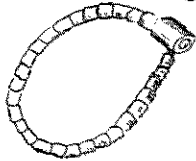

It is easy to use because it is flexible like a traditional cable and versatile so that you can lock your bike to more than just a parking meter.

We don't know how long our stock will last. Get one before they disappear again.

R+E CYCLES FEATURED ON NBC TODAY SHOW

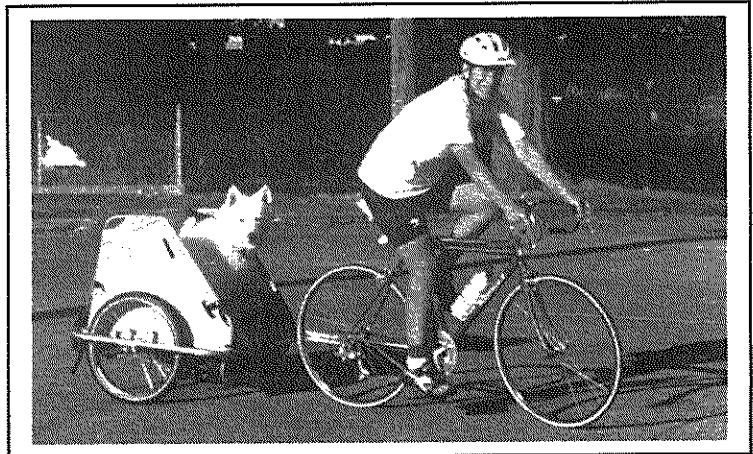

ESTELLE AND MISCHA ON NATIONAL TV!???

Estelle Gray,
Owner R+E Cycles
Mischa, biscuit eater

Watch for us on NBC's Today Show. NBC recently came to Seattle to film a piece on bicycle commuting. They featured R+E for two reasons. Ostensibly, it is because we support bicycle commuting; (Did you know that if you are a bike commuter we'll do your service work within 24 hours and even give you a loaner bike, if you need one?) We are the pros when it comes to bicycle commuting. Most of our staff bicycle commutes, and we stock all the gear you could ever need for commuting. However we think that the real reason NBC chose R+E is because it is home to the cutest bicycle commuting dog. Bring a biscuit when you come in, and Mischa or one of our staff will help you with any of your commuting needs.

WHY ARE THESE PEOPLE SMILING?

John Borszcz has been the head mechanic for the last year, and now has been promoted to service manager of Seattle Bike Repair. R+E was lucky enough to acquire John when he left Turin Bike Shop in Chicago, where he headed the repair dept. for many years. You may have already met John at the STP start line, Courage Classic, the Seattle Bike Repair counter, or at one of our bike repair classes (he teaches almost all of them). Congratulations are doubly in order for John, not only is this a big promotion, he's also getting married next month. You might even know his bride to be, Catherine Willis, who is the front end manager at PCC Greenlake.

R+E welcomes Stacia McInnes as our Retail Sales Manager. Stacia is fresh from Palo Alto Bicycles in California where she was the sales manager for several years. After you've met Stacia, you'll know exactly why Palo Alto as well as R+E was voted a top ten bicycle shop in the nation, by the readers of Bicycling Magazine. Stacia has a degree in Physical Education, and has in depth knowledge about coaching and nutrition. Get this! Stacia just returned from finishing well in the Canadian Ironman™ where she qualified for the Hawaiian Ironman™! She and her husband Brian recently moved back to Seattle (she's an Edmonds native) where he's currently pursuing his career in Podiatry.

TIME TO W YOUR

ON REAR RACKS

You might scoot around all summer with your bike as light as possible. But when winter comes, you'll want to haul a little gear. You can instantly install a Headland rear rack onto your seat post, or permanently install a Blackburn with a lifetime guarantee. We stock a full selection of racks for mountain, cross and road bikes. See coupon page 5

FLASHING TAIL LIGHT

Don't get hit from behind. Those little blinking red lights mount easily on seatpost, your rack, your bag, or even on your person. They are inexpensive, and run on common AA or AAA batteries. See coupons on pages 4 & 5.

SAVE YOUR HIDE

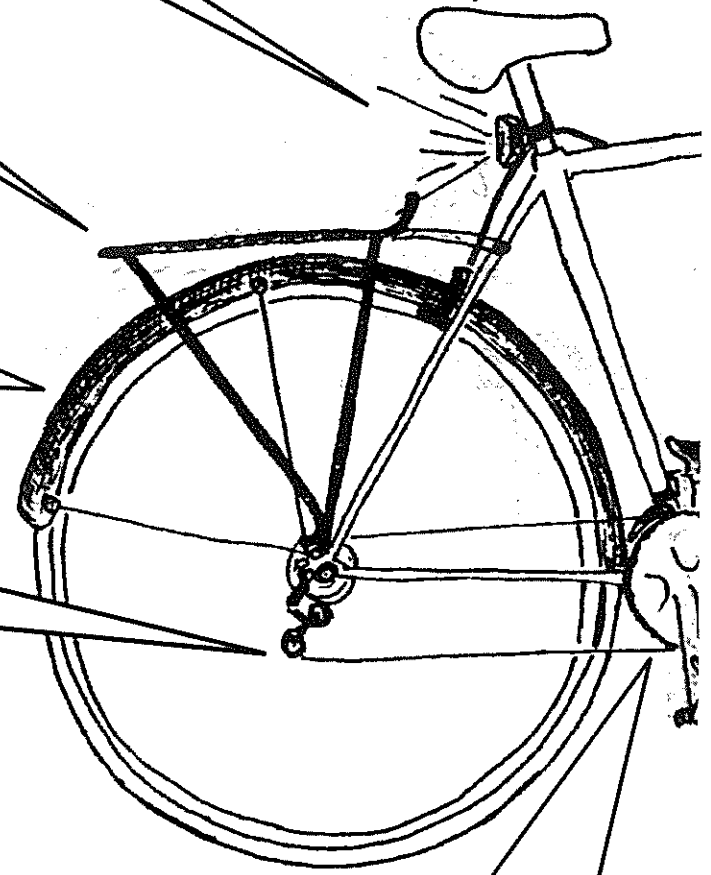

Rain and wet weather will ruin the leather on your saddle. Lycra and synthetic seats soak up water and feel yucky to ride. Cover your saddle with a waterproof cover. See coupon pg. 8

FENDERS

The water from the sky isn't the problem. It's the muddy, sloppy, wet gunk that gets kicked up from your tires. Install a lightweight pair of fenders, and you'll enjoy winter riding. Don't look like a skunk, use the coupon on this page!

GORETEX IS NOT JUST FOR RAIN COATS ANYMORE!!

You will be amazed at the shifting that can be achieved with Goretex cables. Weather proof and slick. We also stock Goretex brake cables. Come in to Seattle Bike Repair, and have your bike gored!

SEALED BOTTOM BRACKET

Winter is most harsh on your bottom bracket bearings. A worn bottom bracket wastes a lot of your pedaling energy, and costs you money and time in overhauls. Upgrade to a Phil Wood water proof bottom bracket with a five year warranty! Or choose from our full stock of Shimano sealed bottom brackets. See Coupon page 7

NEWS FROM THE REPAIR BENCH

DON'T LET YOUR BIKE BE A BEAR ¥ SKIP THE HIBERNATION AND BE READY TO SPRING INTO ACTION

After a long hard summer of riding, your trusty bike is probably ready for some T.L.C. Do your wheels need truing? Is your drivetrain grimy? Is your shifting a little shaky (or clattery)? Don't hang your bike up for the season in this condition. Get your bike tuned or overhauled now and be ready for that first ride in the spring or that odd warm day in February. Seattle Bike Repair wants you to be ready to go. Here are some top rate services that are perfect to take care of during the 'off-season'.

Seasonal adjustment. This is the mother of all tune-ups and available only from SBR. We remove, soak and scrub your chain, cogs, chainrings and derailleurs. We tension, true, round and dish your wheels. We check and adjust all your bearings. We clean and lubricate all your components. We check your frame alignment and align your dropouts and fork ends. We adjust and lubricate your shifting and braking systems. And we test ride every bike to verify the adjustments. Installation labor of most replacement components (brake shoes, cables, chains, cogs, tires, tubes etc.) is included in this 'tune-up'. Seattle Bike Repair will rejuvenate your bike now so that you can ride on the first warm spring day.

Seasonal overhaul. This service includes everything listed for the seasonal adjust and adds the overhaul of your bottom bracket, headset and hubs. We disassemble, clean and inspect your bearing surfaces. We replace any worn parts (parts cost extra) and repack each bearing surface with new grade 25 ball bearing and fresh grease

Table frame alignment. Production bike frames rarely, if ever, come from the factory in perfect alignment. And even a custom frame can be put out of alignment by years of hard riding or that occasional, but inevitable, crash. We use an electromagnetic frame alignment table to precisely align all frame tubes and the fork. Your bike will corner and track better and be more stable flying down hill with this service. Table alignment requires complete disassembly of your bike. Combine this service with an overhaul to save disassembly and reassembly charges.

Wheel Building. Hand built wheels are still the best. Wheels built by Seattle Bike Repair are better because we build them right and we back them up with a three year guarantee. Come in for a free consultation on what wheel is best for your type of riding. Combine your wheel builds with a seasonal adjustment or overhaul and save $10 per wheel (See the coupon below).

Frame refinishing. Treat your bike and yourself to a new coat of paint. Your bike gets stripped, sand blasted, primed and painted for a like new look. If you have ever wanted extra water bottle or rack braze-ons (or any other braze-ons) this is the time to do it. Corrosion repairs are also available. Frame refinishing and brazing is performed right here on the R+E premises.

SEAL OUT THE WINTER

The bearings of your bottom bracket, the bearing set that your crankarms turn on, are particularly susceptible to corrosion and wear during the fall and winter months. The enemy in this case is condensation. When you move your bike from the warm indoors to the chilly outdoors, moisture condenses on the inside of the tubes of your bike frame. This water trickles down to the lowest point inside the frame, which is also where your bottom bracket bearings reside. The resulting corrosion will cause lots of extra friction and grinding noises while you pedal. There is a simple and cost effective solution.

Sealed cartridge bottom brackets prevent the intrusion of water and corrosion of your bottom bracket bearings. These sealed units consist two precision sealed bearing which are in turn sealed in a cartridge housing. The sealed bearings are very smooth and resist moisture and the housing additionally protects the bearings from moisture. These bottom brackets spin smoother and last much, much longer the convention type resulting in more efficient pedaling and much less maintenance cost and time.

Excellent sealed bottom brackets made by Phil Wood and Shimano are available from Seattle Bike Repair. Their cost ranges from $30 to $120 and installation is $15 with the coupon on this page. These sealed bottom brackets require no maintenance and last 5 to 20 years. A yearly bottom bracket overhaul to maintain a conventional unit costs $30 and over the years will total $150 to $600!! A sealed bottom bracket can save you loads of money and prevents the hassles of poor performance while you're riding.

TANDEM SALES GO NUTS AT R+E CYCLES

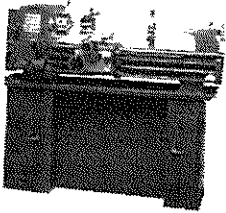

We've surprised even ourselves with how many tandem we sold this past season. We have sold more tandems than in any previous year- and we have been selling tandems since 1973!! We don't know exactly what to attribute this to. We do know that our staff's expertise keeps expanding, tandem prices have actually come down ($2500 for a 1995 RODRIGUEZ custom is less than you paid for one in the 80's), and riding with kids as stokers as gotten popular. But maybe it's just because we have some really smashing paint designs!!

FRAME SHOP GETS A MAJOR OVERHAUL!

Wait until you see it! We have purchased the latest in equipment so that we can get you a custom tandem or single bike with a little less lead time. We can't boast that this equipment will allow us to build your frame any better, they are already the best, but it will speed up delivery times and allow us to delve into more new ideas. If you've been considering a custom bicycle or tandem, come by and see the newest equipment in town! We are always glad to show it off.
